

ACMT FIT Visiting Professor Lecture #NACCT2025

Call for Proposals: ACMT FIT Visiting Professor Lecture

Deadline: January 6, 2025

The ACMT Fellows-in-Training (FIT) Visiting Professor Lecture offers an opportunity for medical toxicologists to share their expertise and innovations with the next generation of fellows-in-training at the 2025 North American Congress of Clinical Toxicology (NACCT). This 60-minute lecture allows ACMT members to inspire, educate, and contribute to the professional growth of future leaders in the field of medical toxicology.

Why Present?

As a physician and medical toxicologist, this is your chance to highlight your work, showcase innovative approaches, and foster meaningful education within the toxicology community. This platform provides a unique opportunity to engage with trainees while positioning yourself as a thought leader in the field. Past lectures have addressed critical issues like career development, education strategies, and expanding toxicology into broader fields:

- Pursuing a Research Career as a Medical Toxicology Young Investigator: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly – Stephanie Carreiro, David Jang (2018)
- Teaching Toxicology to Other Professionals: The How and Why of Continuing Medical Education (2019)
- Forensic Toxicology Opportunities Beyond Medical-Legal (Litigation) Consulting – Jerry Leikin (2020)
- Making a Decision to Apply for Board Certification in Addiction Medicine – Leslie Dye (2022)
- Financial Literacy for the Recently Graduated – Kristine Nañagas (2023)
- Decoding Research Funding Opportunities: How to Select, Read, Write a Grant to Get Yourself Funded – Peter Chai, Stephanie Carreiro (2024)

How to Apply

We invite ACMT members to submit a proposal to deliver this lecture at #NACCT2025. Proposals should include:

- Proposed Lecture Title
- Name of Presenter(s)
- Presentation Background
- Learner Objectives (minimum of 2)
- Presentation Method

Review Process

All submissions will be peer-reviewed by the ACMT Education Committee and leadership. Selected proposals will be forwarded to NACCT for final approval, with decisions anticipated by February 2025.

Travel Support

ACMT members are responsible for covering their own expenses to attend NACCT, including travel, hotel, and registration fees.
